John W. Davis and Governor Bryan Chosen by Democratic Convention to Head Ticket as Deadlock Breaks

Former Ambassador Selected by Acclamation as 103rd Ballot Was Being Taken—Vice Presidential Candidate Named Partly Because of Familiarity with Agricultural Conditions of Country.

Walsh Declines Position

Virtually Had Second Place Choice in Hands at Close of Afternoon Session, but Adjourned Meeting Until Evening—Meredith Also Refuses to Accept, If Named.

Madison Square Garden, July 10. — The Democratic national convention brought its tempestuous session to a close early this morning, placing before the country a ticket headed by John W. Davis of West Virginia with Governor Charles W. Bryan of Nebraska in second place.

Nominated on the 103rd ballot in the final dissolution of the deadlock which had gripped the convention for 10 days, Mr. Davis began his services as the leader of his party by upsetting precedent and addressing the convention at the evening session and then going into conference with the convention managers over choice of a nominee for the vice presidency.

Governor Bryan was chosen for second place on the ticket after his friends had placed before Mr. Davis and his conferees an argument for selection of a western man of proven executive capacity, familiar with agriculture and in sympathy with the liberal sentiment of the country.

The nomination of the Nebraska governor, who is a brother of William Jennings Bryan, took only one ballot. The word that the leaders wanted him nominated was passed quickly about the convention hall and although active campaigns had been made for several other candidates, the result was not long in doubt. Mr. Bryan was declared nominated at 2:22 o'clock.

Mr. Davis appeared before the convention shortly after midnight after it had heard Governor Alfred E. Smith voice his praise for the selection finally made to head the party ticket and promised unstinted support for his election.

The nominee began with an expression of gratitude and appreciation of the hour that had come to him. "But grateful as I am of this great honor, I think even more of the duties you have given me to perform. But I take comfort when I look at the banners displayed throughout this hall and reflect that they are not the standards of a Phantom army but that they represent an army of millions of Democrats ready as they always have been to battle for liberty and righteousness."

"We are a national party, and it must be, I believe, because we profess a national creed. The great principles of the Democratic party—honesty in government, that public office is a public trust, equal rights to all men and special privileges to none, fair and equal taxation, an open door of opportunity to the humblest citizen in all the land, liberty at home and courage and honor and helpfulness abroad—these principles are as dear to the east as to the west, and revered by the north and by the south."

Party Bowed Enough for All. "And this great army is ready to do battle again to any who challenge the principles of the Democratic party. I know this convention has had its differences but all these things were but the thunderstorm that cleared the clouds away and left shining on the sun of coming victory and peace."

When I am duly advised of the nomination it will be my duty to work further on these and kindred themes. I shall therefore do no more at the moment than to express my appreciation and to express my confidence that I shall lead in this campaign, a united, a militant, and a victorious party."

I shall therefore do no more at the moment than to express my appreciation and to express my confidence that I shall lead in this campaign, a united, a militant, and a victorious party."

When the conference with Mr. Davis broke up it was said by some of those who had participated that Governor Bryan of Nebraska was being strongly considered for the vice presidential nomination.

Nominee Reluctant to Give Up Law Practice to Enter Politics, but Made Rapid Advancements

MADE AMBASSADOR

Succeeded W. H. Page to Court of St. James—Held High Positions in Wilson Administration

New York, July 9. — John William Davis, the democratic nominee for President, was born in Clarksville, W. Va., in 1873, the only son in a family of six children. His father, John J. Davis, also a native of Clarksville, was an attorney and was constantly active in civic enterprises. He served in the legislature of the state and was twice elected to congress. Mrs. Anna (Kennedy) Davis, the mother of John W. Davis, was a native of Baltimore.

Mr. Davis was an alert student, being graduated from Washington and Lee university at the age of 19. After receiving his bachelor of arts degree, he spent three years studying law and won the law degree, at the age of 22, in 1895. He was admitted to the bar in the same year.

The following year he returned to the university to become professor of law. He taught one year, and then began the practice of law in Clarksville in partnership with his father.

When, in 1898, the Democrats of his town sought to send him to the house of delegates, the lower house of the legislature, he was reluctant to interrupt his professional practice and refused the nomination. He finally acceded, however, and was elected easily. He was made chairman of the judiciary committee of the house and served in that capacity for two years.

After one term in the legislature he returned to his law office and clung to his determination toeschew politics. Between 1899 and 1910 the only political office he held were those of county chairman, member of the state executive committee of his party in 1908, and delegate to the national conventions of 1904 and 1908.

Made Ambassador to London.

When in 1910 the Democrats of his district chose him for representative in congress, he was again reluctant to accept but a unanimous vote of the convention won him over, however, and he conducted vigorous campaigns and was elected in a district that had been Republican for 20 years. He was reelected in 1912.

In the national house, as in the legislature, Mr. Davis was made chairman of the judiciary committee. He took an active part during the impeachment and trial of Judge Robert W. Archibald.

As a result of his service on this committee, President Wilson selected him as solicitor general in 1913, and Mr. Davis resigned from the house to accept that office.

In the summer of 1918, Mr. Davis went to Europe as a member of the commission of three Americans to treat with Germany as to the exchange of prisoners of war. He was in Berlin on this mission when, upon the resignation of Walter Hines Page, Mr. Wilson made Mr. Davis the American ambassador to Great Britain. Mr. Davis returned to this country for a conference with the President and took up his work in London in November, just as the war came to an end. In his capacity of ambassador, he was present in Versailles during the peace conference.

Massachusetts, was presented by Whitfield L. Tuck of Winchester, Mass.

Mayor John F. Hylan of New York, city was nominated by Robert Dinwiddie of Massachusetts.

Michigan was called and Walter L. McKenzie of Detroit seconded the nomination of Alvin Owsley.

When Minnesota was called C. C. McCarthy of Grand Rapids seconded the nomination of John C. Greenway.

New Hampshire yielded to Maine and Fulton J. Friedman of Elsworth placed in nomination Edward T. Meredith of Iowa, secretary of agriculture in the Wilson administration.

Mr. Meredith was sitting with the Iowa delegation and vigorously shook his head. He previously had stated that he would not accept the nomination.

SIMPLE SERVICE FOR CALVIN, JR.

Body Enroute to Plymouth for Burial in Coolidge Family Plot

Washington, July 9. — President and Mrs. Coolidge tonight took their boy Calvin back to Vermont to be buried in the family plot of the little cemetery at Plymouth.

A simple but impressive funeral was held in the East room of the White House late this afternoon, attended by government officials, ranking military officers, members of the diplomatic corps and intimate friends of the family.

On the White House lawn several thousand persons stood with bowed heads during the ceremony, having come to give visible expression of their sympathy.

Typical of their New England reserve, President and Mrs. Coolidge repressed outward manifestation of their grief.

Casket Closed for Last Time.

The family, broken for the first time, drew comfort from the service and Mrs. Coolidge listened attentively to the consoling words of the scripture. The President, on her left, sat with head slightly bowed. The son, John, on his mother's right, sat erect and listened earnestly to the pastor.

A little later, in the evening, the casket was closed for the last time, in the presence of the family, and soon thereafter, almost to the hour when three weeks ago, bubbling with joy, he was carried to the funeral train.

Tomorrow morning a brief stop will be made at Northampton, Mass., where Calvin was born and where services will be held for him. From there the party, including members of the President's cabinet and others close to him in official and private life, will proceed to Plymouth, where will be there late in the afternoon in the lot where the President's mother and sister lie, and tomorrow night those who made the journey will return to the capitol.

NEGRO, SHOT BY RAILROAD DETECTIVE, REPORTED DYING

Hornell, July 9. — Charles Harrington, negro, 28 years old, is dying in the Warsaw hospital with a bullet through his stomach as the result of a running fight near Dalton, Livingston county, last night. Sergeant Walter Smith of Buffalo, a member of the Erie Railroad police force discovered several men opening the door of a car on a fast freight stalled at a crossing.

Before he had a chance to draw his revolver the men fired at him but the shot went wild. He returned the fire and one man dropped. The others ran to a waiting automobile and disappeared in the darkness.

Harrington was taken to Warsaw on the freight train, where his condition is said to be critical.

man from South Dakota, nominated James W. Gerrard of New York, former ambassador to Germany.

When New Jersey was reached the name of Governor Silzer was withdrawn and the vote of the state was cast "out of compliment" for Mayor Hylan of New York.

Bryan got 14 out of the 30 New York votes and Mayor Hylan was given 40. The rest were scattered.

There was no nomination for vice president on the first ballot.

The votes were scattered widely over a field of 20 candidates.

After the roll call had been concluded, however, several of the larger states, including New York, changed their votes to swell the total that had been cast for Governor Bryan of Nebraska.

"Wonderful Nomination," Declares Governor Smith—Promises Full Aid of Party in State to Ticket

ONLY GRATITUDE

No Rancor in Heart of Executive—Has Gotten Further Along in Public Life Than He Ever Expected

Madison Square Garden, July 9. — Amid a great demonstration and while thousands sang "East Side, West Side," Alfred E. Smith appeared tonight before the Democratic national convention in Madison Square Garden.

The thousands who idolize the New York governor all but burst their throats and almost lifted the roof of the great garden when he appeared on the platform.

The great crowd cheered the governor so loud and so long that Chairman Walsh almost despaired of getting the audience quiet enough to hear him, but when the governor himself held up his hand for silence the crowd quickly quieted down to hear him.

"Not being familiar with the rules of the convention," he began, "I am afraid that the applause will be taken out of my time and I request that you refrain until I finish. I feel that it would be useless for me to extend any word of welcome to the delegates and their friends because the great city of New York made a complete job as could be made of it."

"If you have been annoyed by the zeal of those who have tried to explain that I am the greatest man in the world, please overlook it."

"I want to make a passing reference to my own situation so far as the nomination for the presidency is concerned. If I were to tell anybody here that I am disappointed it would not be true, because I am not. I have gotten further in the public life of the country and the state than I ever expected to get. I have no rancor or ill will in my heart; nothing but gratitude."

Wonderful Nomination. "I did nothing about this nomination. There was nothing I could do about it. I chose the course of giving 100 per cent service to the people at Washington, and that's the reason why the Republican party in this state is broken and leaderless."

"While the convention ran for more than a week there was a great deal of talk about the damage to the party because of the length of time it took to select a candidate. Don't pay any attention to that. Anything that comes up from the masses of the people always takes time; if it comes any other way it's not genuine."

"You have made a wonderful nomination. If the United States was a great business institution and it belonged to me and I needed a man of great brains and capacity, I would be willing to give it into the hands of John W. Davis. I wouldn't ask for a better executor of my last will and testament."

"So far as the state of New York is concerned take this pledge from me. I am the leader of the democracy in this state and the very minute I take off my coat and vest and so will everybody else who follows me in this state, and do what we can to improve conditions in the United States by the election of the ticket that is going to come from this convention."

CORN CROP CONDITIONS LOWEST EVER ON JULY 1

Washington, July 9. — Corn opened the crop season with the lowest conditions ever reported on July 1 and indications of production are half a million bushels less than last year, despite an average of 14 per cent larger than the year ago.

The department of agriculture's first forecast of the season, issued today, placed total corn production at 2,512,000 bushels. An unusually cold May followed by an excessively wet June were responsible for the low condition of corn but were decidedly favorable for wheat, oats and barley, which shows a decided improvement in prospects over a month ago.

Smaller crops than last year of white and sweet potatoes, tobacco and apples are indicated, but barley, rye, flax seed, rice and peach production will be larger than last year. Wheat stocks on farms on July 1 were smaller than a year ago and also less than the average for that date during the previous five years.

30 ACCIDENTS REPORTED

July 9. — Fifty accidents were reported today when the garage and auto room of the L. D. Van Housen company here was destroyed by fire. The loss was estimated at $30,000. Frequent gasoline explosions prevented firemen from getting the flames at close range and for a time the entire block was threatened.

CATCHING RUNNER "NAPPING"

TRY TO DO IT WHENEVER HE'S TAKING TOO BIG A LEAD
BUT UNLESS YOU HAVE VERY GOOD CONTROL AND FAST DELIVERY THE ONLY USE FOR THIS IS TO WORRY RUNNER

When should a pitcher try to catch a runner "napping" on the bases?

Answered by GROVER CLEVELAND ALEXANDER

Pitcher, Chicago Cubs. A major league leader for 17 years. Greatest pitcher in the National League.

Try to catch a base-runner off of the base any time you believe he is taking too much of a lead and he can "get" him. If you do not have excellent control and a very fast delivery there is no reason for throwing to the bases, except to worry the runner. In my opinion the practice of throwing to the bases, as some pitchers use it, slows up the game and brings no results except an occasional wild pitch.

COLONIALS WIN IN 11TH

Three Bingles in How Following Hitting of Flynn by Fitchell Ball After Two Had Been Hit.

Two Much of Handicap for Giants to Overcome in Their Portion of Round-Eckstein Injures Ankle—Boylan Makes Starring Catch.

With two men down in the 11th round yesterday afternoon and things apparently going on to the satisfaction of the locals in so far as batting by the Colonials was concerned.

This seemed to be the best of the game, for the three following bingles came, pushing over two runs, breaking a tie score and piling up such a barrier as the Giants were unable to mount in their portion of the same round, although they did get men on second and third.

The Colonials beat the Giants 5 to 3. These three hits obtained in the fatal round were just one-third of the total Colonials held the hard hitting Kingston outfit to throughout the game. Up to that time he had kept the outfit scattered, except in the first when the visitors got a couple of hits and a like number of runs.

Colleton allowed the home club just five well separated singles.

Boylan, relieving Eckstein in center after the latter had been hit on the ankle with a batted ball in the first, made the catch of the day, and probably season. With Colleton trying for a triple in the first, the fielder chased over to the right in an apparently vain effort to catch the flyer.

The effort was not in vain, however, for Jimmy got near enough to it to stick out his right hand and clutch the sphere as it was about to pass him enroute to the fence. There were many fielding chances of a fine sort made for the benefit of the few fans present. One of these plays was in the fourth when Coyle fielded Harner's grounder in an efficient manner.

The guests of the local aggregation got busy in the opening round and earned two runs. They presented these back to Oneonta in the third by means of Robbins' failure to stop a ball thrown to the plate from the outfield.

Boylan had singled to left. Sinstack had fled to right and Scanlon hit through the box the stifling drive being chased up to Coyle.

Coyle sufficiently to give Boylan a chance to get at it and touch second with the ball in time to get Boylan's right foot on the base.

Stement recorded. Fitch also hit a hot one through Colleton, who slowed it as he did the former, but Flynn let it get by him and into the outfield, where Dugan retrieved and threw to the plate, the ball going on by Robbins and Scanlon and Wilson were over the plate, tying the score.

The Giants took the lead in the sixth. With Fitch retired Faye drove a single across second into center, taking third on a single by Harner into right. McChie, playing third, let the throw to that base go past him.

Faye taking full advantage of the mischance and scoring.

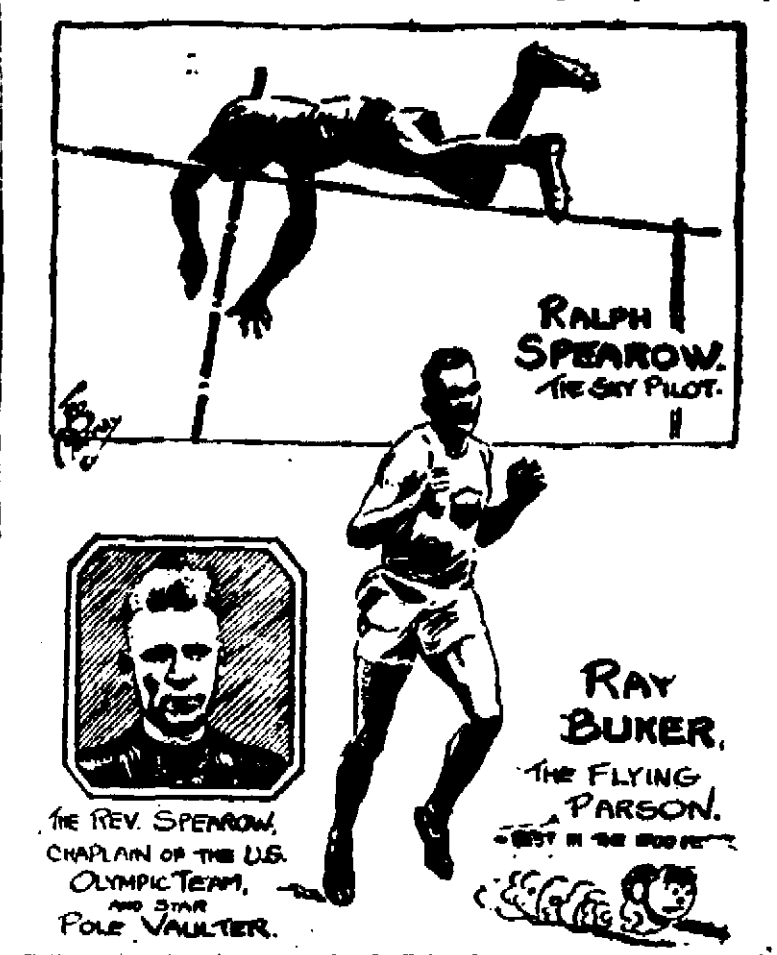

In the eighth with two down, Raskin got a long drive to left. It was a good double and an almost certain triple. The runner tried to make the hit going on to the line and just as the relayed throw was coming in, add into the bag. But the ball like several of its predecessors, failed to stop an intended and Raskin was out with the third Kingston tally.

Nothing more happened until the fifth, when the visiting club went into the lead with their fourth and fifth tallies.

In the Oneonta team's portion of the last frame, with one down, Faye was pumped and Harner singled, sending hope back into the hearts of many of those present. Wilson grounded, making men on third and second with two down. With a fly to the line across with many a fly in the past, was sent in to pitch.

Severe Penalties of Judge Cooper Causes Use of New York as Supply Point

Albany, July 9. — Federal Judge Frank Cooper's severe penalties in dealing with violators of the Volstead law, in a most marked degree has resulted in a change of source of supply for Central New York rum drinkers, according to Edward Schaffer, supervisor of the Albany office of the prohibition department.

Mr. Schaffer cited incidents to prove a most pronounced decrease in the rum-running from the northern country and increased activities of the bootleggers of New York and vicinity.

Fines carrying from $500 to $500 for first offenders, $1,000 on each count for second offenders, and jail sentences for third offenders, and the punishment handed out to dry law violators who appear before Judge Cooper, said Mr. Schaffer, causes the average bootlegger to hesitate before taking a chance in the northern district, or where they will come under the jurisdiction of Judge Cooper.

Mr. Schaffer said that today, a big advantage in the source of supply being from the south, as the New York bootleggers can sell their goods 25 per cent lower than their competitors from the northern country.

According to Mr. Schaffer the prices of liquor are now the lowest since prohibition went into effect. He quoted the wholesale price of good Scotch whiskey from $19 to $22 a case, and gin at $25 a case.

Because of the greater activities now being from the south, Mr. Schaffer said that he was altering his plans to meet this situation.

DIES OF TETANUS
Binghamton, July 9. — The first death from lockjaw resulting from celebrating July 4 occurred here yesterday when Stanley Vahnsky, 11 years old, succumbed to tetanus after the infection of a powder wound on July 4 when a 22 caliber cartridge was discharged in his left hand. Tetanus anti-toxin was administered without result.

LOCAL SECTION

Forty-five club members were present at the regular bridge luncheon which was held at the Country club yesterday.

Miss Thelma Townsend and Miss Elsie Potter entertained about 50 of their friends with a very pretty bridge luncheon at the Country club on Tuesday.

Twenty-five members of the W. C. T. U. held a business meeting with a picnic following at Wilber park yesterday afternoon. A vote was carried to contribute $30 to the Near East relief fund.

Repairing work on Main street has progressed very favorably and last evening the street was finished to in front of the Municipal building, and it is thought that the entire job will be completed within ten or twelve days.

The number of Fresh Air children was increased last evening to 127 when Chairman Miller of the Rotary committee received a telegram from another child, Minnie Messenger, would arrive this evening. This girl will be entertained by Mrs. Claude Bartlett of East Sidney, who was also her host last year.

It is requested that hosts of Fresh Air children ascertain if their charges were weighed and measured upon arrival. Hosts are asked, in cases where the measuring and weighing was not done here, to weigh the children, measure their height and communicate the weight and height as soon as possible to A. E. Risdorff, 11 Church street, Oneonta.

WORK ON RIFLE RANGE.

Rifle and Revolver Club Getting Ready for Action.

Work on the construction of the Oneonta Rifle and Revolver club's range in the basement under the Tobey building on Broad street was commenced last evening by a group of members of the club, and considerable work was accomplished in the way of installing a lighting system and erecting partitions. Another "bee" will be held Friday evening.

The range will be 50 feet in length. There will be a sand cushion a foot thick along the entire length of the back wall and back of each target will be a steel plate. The door leading into the alley at the rear will be protected by a steel plate so that all danger of a stray bullet getting through to the outside will be obviated.

The lighting facilities will be ample for good vision. The firing line will be so constructed that it will be possible to shoot standing, kneeling or prone. With 49 members already signed up and several more expressing a desire to join, the club is in a flourishing condition and hopes to accomplish much.

Meetings Today

THE MEMBERS OF ONEONTA RIFLE AND REVOLVER CLUB will hold a picnic today at Sister Stevenson's camp on Chautauque, Goodyear lake. Take 10:30 a. m. train. Transportation will be provided for those who wish to stay in the evening. Bring usual refreshments.

THE TRELL OF A LIFETIME

FRESH AIR CHILDREN, 126 IN NUMBER, ARRIVE AND ARE TAKEN TO VACATION HOMES.

Teaching House at U. S. N. Station at Kingston Get On Train After Long Ride from New York—Distribution of Children Settled in Orderly Manner by Rotarians.

The gap between duty, fume-choked street canyons, where the rays of the sun are reflected with dazzling, dizzying brilliancy from stone and asphalt, and breezy swept hills and dunes, between the noise, the confusion and the abnormality of a great city and the peace and quiet of a rural section—in short between the "sidewalks of New York" and the open stretches of Otsego and Adirondack—was bridged yesterday by 126 little children who last night enjoyed what was for many of them their first experience of real existence, their thrill of a lifetime. Through the generosity of the Tribune Fresh Air fund, Oneonta Rotary club and good people hereabouts those children will spend two weeks in their vacation homes, breathing clean, fresh air and eating food nourishing to their little bodies, in many cases sadly neglected.

The children left New York early yesterday morning and transferred at Kingston to the Ulster & Delaware railroad, which brought them to Oneonta, the train, which reached here shortly before 1 o'clock, running as a special from Arkville. The train was met at that village by eight Rotarians, C. C. Miller, E. E. Demoyers, H. D. Lewis, M. G. Keenan, A. J. Stratton, Frank Herlihy, A. W. Ackley and E. R. Moore, who equipped each child with a tag showing the number of the team which was to deliver him to his destination and grouped the children in the two cars according to their team numbers.

At the station here a space had been blocked off and officers kept it clear of everybody except Rotarians and hosts who had come for the day, and they were to entertain. The children left the train they were weighed and measured by Rotarian A. E. Risdorff, and then were either given into the care of their hosts or else taken in charge by the Rotarians who were to deliver them. There were hitches of course—minor mistakes had occurred both here and in New York and various small difficulties had to be straightened out—but under the direction of C. C. Miller, chairman of the Rotary Fresh Air committee, things moved along quite smoothly and less than an hour after the train arrived every child was on the way to its vacation home. The welfare workers who accompanied the children, stated that the most orderly of the children was the most orderly of any trip they had ever been on.

The children presented to the many onlookers both a happy and pathetic sight as they got off the train. Of every age they were and of almost every nationality. Decked in their very best were the kiddies and their extra clothing, in some cases pitifully meagre in quantity, was carried in every sort of container from paper sacks to worn suitcases. There was many a tug at the hearts of the bystanders as they glimpsed the evidences of maternal love and desire to provide for the children for the great adventure.

That the children will have an experience never to be forgotten can readily be imagined. The hosts had in many instances made elaborate preparations for the reception of their young guests and all were warm in their welcome. Tired and hungry and homesick most of the children were when they reached Oneonta but those physical and mental strains vanished quickly enough last evening under the influence of motherly arms, abundant food, and comfortable beds. The hosts will get their reward for their kind heartedness from the satisfaction of watching children expand and from the thanks of all other guests. The Rotarians will have the satisfaction of knowing that they have helped to put new vigor into the bodies and new hope and inspiration into the minds of those less fortunate than themselves. "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of these my children ye have done it unto me."

TWO DAMAGE SUITS PROBABLE

One Against City of Oneonta and Another Against Hotel Oneonta.

Justice Kellogg has appointed guardians in two accident cases of local interest.

Mrs. Armenia Perry has been appointed guardian for her daughter, Nellie Perry, to prosecute a claim against the Hotel Oneonta for injuries received by the daughter a few weeks ago when she fell into the elevator shaft at the hotel.

Calvin D. Loucks has also been appointed guardian for his son, Clayton M. Loucks, who received severe injuries from the tower part of June when in alighting from a bus in front of the Windsor hotel he stepped on a protruding water marker in the sidewalk. A claim will be filed against the city.

AT THE KIWANIS LUNCHEON

Frank C. Huntington Told Interesting Story of Annual Convention at Denver.

At the weekly luncheon of the Kiwanis club yesterday Frank C. Huntington gave an interesting report of his attendance at the annual meeting of Kiwanis International, which he attended as a delegate from Oneonta Kiwanis club.

A special train of delegates was formed at Buffalo, composed of five sleepers, a diner and a club car, and had ninety delegates and wives on board on arrival at Chicago. After dinner at the Fort Dearborn Hotel, visit was made to Kiwanis International headquarters at the amount of work done there and the efficient young women employed to accomplish it. The following day was Sunday and on train divine service was held, conducted by Kiwanian clergymen who were in the party.

Mr. Huntington gave an interesting description of Denver, the mile-high city, and told of the astounding hospitality and the remarkable cooperation of citizens, Kiwanis, Rotary, Lions, Civilians and other similar organizations in assisting in the entertainment of the delegates and their wives.

Between 5,000 and 7,000 delegates were registered and the New York delegation was quartered at the Argonne hotel with a few at Brown Palace. Delegations were present from every state in the union and many from Canada. The California delegation were uniform orange cuffs on their sleeves and were more demonstrative than any other delegation.

The largest, most colorful and spectacular of all the delegations was that of New Mexico, who arrived in a caravan of two hundred autos. Their glees club, the Cenadores, dressed in glees of twenty members, dressed in flashy Mexican costumes with wide sombreros, white shirts and trousers, velvet vests and red sashes and their Spanish and English singing was much enjoyed. The delegation also came with them sixteen Navajo and eleven Pueblo Indians, with full regalia and tent equipment. To complete their party, they brought the noted Los Vegas cowboy band of thirty men and four or five women who gave Spanish dances and songs.

The delegates were given an automobile tour of the mountain park region and visited Pahassa Tepee and the grave of Buffalo Bill.

The climax of the entertainment was a pageant, "The Spirit of the West," given in Denver's civic center. Three log old time dance hall, saloon and gambling joint. Two hundred Indian cowboys and old time settlers came down from Idaho city to participate and about 3,500 people took part.

Delegations from various sections of the country were accompanied by the Kiwanis club and quartets. The New England delegation brought with them a replica of the Mayflower. The Tampa delegation advertised their city by means of 5,000 cigars. The Seattle delegation made a strong bid for the 1925 convention and brought a huge salmon frozen in four 400-pound cakes of ice.

The St. Paul delegation won the contest for the 1925 convention, parading with white parasols and passing out feathers in a surprise spectacle on the last day.

The entertainment was so well thought and efficient. The character of the delegates, and the high purposes shown in their proceedings was such as might be looked for in a gathering of Kiwanians and made a deep impression on all who were privileged to be in attendance at the convention.

Rev. Arthur Landmesser of Hartwick, Henry Saunders, 2nd, of Newark, N. J., and James Keeton, Jr., of this city were guests at the luncheon yesterday.

STABLING FOR HORSES.

Chamber Committee Will Investigate the Need of One.

Requests having been presented to the Chamber of Commerce that some provision be made for providing public stables for use by such farmers as are driving into the city for business purposes with horses, the directors at a meeting Tuesday referred the matter to a special committee consisting of Arthur M. Butts, R. C. Baird and Fred M. Baker. To investigate as to what extent there is need of such stables and how best they can be provided. It was suggested that inasmuch as Dr. Brand had found it wise to discontinue his stables and turn the building into a public garage it might be difficult for anyone to make this business suggested profitable. Doubtless the committee will be able to make some provision to supply the need that is believed to exist, although it is of no such extent as was experienced before practically every farmer in the possession of one or more motor cars.

Injured While Helping Harness Team.
Mary Young, aged 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Young, residing at 20 Miller street, received a painful wound while helping her father harness his team Wednesday morning.

Mr. Young had just had the horses freshly coaxed and during the process of hitching up, one of them mistook Mary's foot for a place to step, therefore the newly sharpened cork cut through her slipper, crushing her right instep and causing a deep gash. The young lady is an employee of the Star laundry and although rendered incapable of performing her duties there is resting comfortably at this writing.

ANOTHER THRILLER TODAY

Kingsmen Colonials, Winners of Championship 11 Ending Battle Yesterday, to Oppose Oneonta Giants at Neahwa Park at 4 p. m.

As predicted by all who knew the strength and determination of the two teams the battle at Neahwa park yesterday afternoon between the Oneonta Giants and the Kingsmen Colonials proved one of the best of the season. Kingsmen winning the fracas, 5 to 2, in the 11th inning. The natural inference would be that the stands today will be packed to capacity but the local management is beginning to despair of any such happening. Suffice it to say that they should be packed, for the same promises to be another thrilling contest.

The series now stands three to two in favor of Oneonta and the Colonials are determined to take this afternoon's game and even the count. The Giants are just as anxious to send Kingsmen back with no better than an even break for the two games.

Probably Blodgett will be Manager Thomas' pitching choice, although Davis may get the nomination. Both are ready for strenuous battle.

The Democratic national convention is over and hourly perusal of the bulletins need no longer command our attention. Let's all go down to the park this afternoon to encourage the team and to show the management that Oneontans want a ball team.

FINE BAND CONCERT.

Keeton's Band Entertains Many in Wilber Park—B. H. Chesbro Sings.

The concert at Wilber park last evening, the first public concert appearance of Keeton's band in two weeks, was one of the most successful ever given in the city, the large number of people in attendance listening rapturously to an excellent program excellently played. Each number was received with a liberality of applause which indicated the keen satisfaction of the listeners.

The concert began with the Star Spangled Banner. A selection from Planquette's "Chimes of Normandy" was greatly enjoyed as was also the "King Midas Overture" by Elsenberg. Two selections were played from the "Atlantis Suite" by Safranek. A nocturne and a duet between Carl Blanchard, playing the baritone, and Clyde F. Breese on the cornet. This number was especially well received.

The feature of the evening was the singing of Byron H. Chesbro, who rendered "You Can Take Me Away From Dixie" by Rose, in so captivating a fashion that he was encored repeatedly. Mr. Chesbro will be the soloist at the next concert of Keeton's band.

Despite the fact that several members of the organization are on vacation the concert last evening was a pronounced success and reflected much credit upon the musicians and upon the able director, James Keeton, Jr.

"White Indians" Reach U. S.

Out of the jungle depths of the "forbidden country" in the Panama Interior Richard G. Marsh, explorer, has brought for the observation of science three "white Indians." They are children of the much-discussed tribe which explorers have for generations attempted to reach and a score of lives have been lost in the effort. The "white Indian" youngsters have been named "Alonso," "Alfonso," "Alfonso," and "Alfonso." Marsh, who brought them to New York, where eminent scientists will seek to learn whether they are really "white Indians" or Albinos.

FARM MANAGEMENT TOUR

Otsego Farmers Plan County-wide Trip, Visiting Many Localities.

Arrangements have been made for a farm management tour, the first of its kind for several years in Otsego county. The general trend in farming today is not how much one can produce, but rather how cheaply can a certain product be produced. There are always certain individuals whose methods of production are worth one's observation. It is with this in view that the tour has been planned.

The tour will assemble at the farm of Charles Jarvis in the Fly Creek valley at 9:30 a. m. on the morning of Wednesday, July 30. Mr. Jarvis is a general farmer, keeping a fair sized herd of purebred Holsteins and a few hundred hens. He has been very successful in growing alfalfa and has kept for the past four years a complete account of his business. The tour will leave for Mr. Jarvis' farm at Hartwick Seminary at 10:30. The important feature of Mr. Jarvis' business is his method of crop rotation.

The tour will leave Mr. Jarvis at 11:15 and go to the home of Karl Green of Westville. Mr. Green has a small place devoted to poultry and bees. His flock consists partly of certified birds. The stop at Mr. Green's will be of sufficient length for the basket lunch dinner and the address by Mr. Hall of the Farm Management department of the New York State College of Agriculture. He will talk on the current farm management problems.

The next stop will be at F. R. Wright's at Westford. Mr. Wright's business is particularly well balanced inasmuch as he has a fairly large dairy, grows ten or twelve acres of potatoes and runs a fair size flock of hens. The tour will leave Mr. Wright's at 2:45 and go to the farm of Claude Bulson in Schoharie. Mr. Bulson is a pure bred Holstein breeder of note who maintains that alfalfa is not a profitable feed for the dairy cow. A very interesting discussion should result from this supposition. Everyone is invited to make this tour.

Harold Houghton and daughter, Lucille, returned Monday to Carthage after spending the week-end with Mrs. Arthur Westfall.

Rev. and Mrs. E. Scott Farley of Sulfield, Conn., and daughter, Harriette, are visiting at the home of Dr. E. J. Farley for a few days.

Mrs. Nathan Noss of Berwick, Pa., who had been visiting her sister, Mrs. J. W. Tomlinson, of 355 1/2 Main street, returned home Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Ellis leave this morning for Lynn, Mass., where they will be guests of the latter's daughter, Mrs. George H. Shearer.

Edison and Mrs. W. M. Diney of Hillsdaleville are in Oneonta on Wednesday, accompanying their son, Carl, St. Diet, Pa., of New York city, who returned home after spending a few days at the family home.

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Beers and family of 27 Ford avenue, who have been touring through the western part of the state for the past week, stopping at Watkins Glen, Niagara Falls and the Thousand Islands region, returned home yesterday. Miss Helen Beers remained at Syracuse for a two weeks' visit with friends.

Mrs. E. J. LaFrance, a former teacher in the high school at Davenport, and her mother, Mrs. Fred L. Haidley, of Windor, Ind., underwent successful surgical operations for removal of tonsils at the Parshall hospital, Dr. A. H. Brownell was the operating surgeon, and both returned to Windor yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Steere leave this morning for Los Angeles, Cal., where Mr. Steere will attend the Mutual Life convention at Hotel Ambassador for four days. From there they will go to San Francisco, Cal., Portland, Oregon, Van Couver, B. C., and return by way of the Canadian National to Montreal, Canada, returning to their home in this city about August 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Connor, many of the older baseball fans here and elsewhere will very distinctly remember "Big Roger," who some thirty years ago was the first baseman of the National league, left yesterday for their home in Waterbury, Conn., after spending several days in this city, where they came to attend the Mayer reunion held July 4 at the Mayer camp on Goodyear lake.

Doubtless many readers will remember "Big Roger" and the one game in which he assisted, playing first base for the state league team in this city. Despite the passage of years Mr. Connor is as stalwart, erect and apparently as vigorous as he was when the idol of New York enthusiasts in the early '90's.

PARSHALL HOSPITAL NOTES
Mrs. B. A. Goodman of Delhi in Critical Condition.
Mrs. B. A. Goodman of 91 Delaware avenue, Delhi, is in a critical condition following a serious operation which she underwent at the Parshall hospital Tuesday. The operation was performed by Drs. Latcher and Brinkman of this city and Dr. Bolt of Worcester. Many friends will wish a speedy recovery for Mrs. Goodman.

Miss Frances Cobb of Delhi, an instructor in the schools of that village, is also a patient at the institution and is recovering nicely from an operation performed yesterday by Drs. Brinkman and Latcher of this city and Dr. Bolt of Worcester.

Nelson J. Winnie of Worcester underwent an operation for appendicitis at the hospital on Friday last and is recovering very nicely. The operation was performed by Drs. Brinkman and Latcher and Dr. Bolt of Worcester.

Mrs. Basil Grigby has returned to her home at 7 James street with her nine pound daughter, Miss Harriette, recently born at the Parshall hospital.

FEDERAL BONUS BLANKS.

Distributed at Meeting of Ex-Servicemen Tuesday Evening.

Blanks for application for the federal bonus were distributed and their filling out explained at a mass meeting of ex-service men held under the direction of Oneonta post of the American legion in Municipal hall Tuesday evening. The attendance was very good.

Dr. Laman S. DeLaMater, commandant of Oneonta post, presided. Raymond M. Tucker explained the filling out of the blanks—much simpler process than is concerned in making out the state bonus blanks—and Donald H. Grant gave a talk concerning the legion's fight and final victory for the passage of the adjusted compensation bill. Company G band furnished music during the evening.

Federal blanks may be obtained of Anthony Pedrone at the Wilbur National bank of Clarence E. Dunne in the law office of Judge F. C. Huntington, of Recruiting Sergeant Harry E. Dierne and at the post office. Chief Horton has announced that the police department will take the required finger prints whenever other duties do not hinder.

FRANKLIN POWER INCREASE

New Model of Popular Car Embodies Many Improvements—Power Increased 25 Per Cent. by Improved Cooling.

The Franklin Motor Sales company of 20 Main street, this city, is now demonstrating a new model of that popular car, designated as Series 14-1, which affords increase in ability with in all speed ranges of the motor, registering as high as 45 per cent. This increase is pointed out by the Franklin company as signifying the power possibilities of the pressure air-cooled motor, and numerous other refinements have been incorporated.

Demonstrations will be cheerfully given from the salesroom, or upon a phone call to the office.

Following are given some of the most interesting details about the new model, practically unchanged in external appearance from the previous model.

The peak speed has been increased from 1700 to 2200 r. p. m., with the greatest power gain over previous Franklin performance showing at 40 m. p. h. Acceleration tests with a Franklin touring show ability to increase from 5 to 25 m. p. h. in 7.3 seconds, which illustrates the pickup which the car has for traffic conditions. From 19 to 40 m. p. h. in 15 seconds shows how quickly normal driving speed can be obtained. From 30 to 45 m. p. h. in 11.5 seconds indicates a responsive reserve power for the spur around other cars. Other tests show that the high powered Franklin will climb an 8.5 per cent grade in 30 per cent less time than will its predecessor. In highway engineering circles, this is recognized as being an exceptionally steep climb, when compared with 5 per cent now being advocated as the maximum gradient.

How the increased power has been achieved is largely a story of improved cooling; this marks, in fact, the highest power developed by an air-cooled automobile motor of its size. It is interesting in connection with the Yale tests that the Franklin engine could not be made to overheat or lose power despite trying indoor laboratory tests which are never attempted with water-cooled engines unless outside cooling devices are employed.

As a means of securing reduced friction, maximum motor life and power, Franklin engineers have provided for full oil pump pressure to the Franklin cylinder walls by means of oil passage-ways drilled into the Franklin connecting rods. The flow of oil through the connecting rod passageways is said to be so rapid and under such pressure as to be thrown in laboratory tests for a distance of 25 feet. Wear is greatly lessened, while smoother motor operation and added ability are the immediate advantages.

With the introduction of the high-powered Franklin there comes a list of refinements applying to chassis as well as body, outstanding among them being the use of the Gascolator for removing water and dirt from the fuel; also, an improved steering device giving shorter turning radius.

We are making special prices on porch swings, refrigerators, and baby carriages. Store open evenings. The Joyce Stores, Unadilla, N. Y. advt 1-1-5.

Strawberries.—Strawberries. Come and get them, fresh picked. Fifteen, twenty cents. Extra large, L. D. Her, Maryland village, advt 21.

Happy Ending

All marriages of young millionaires and musical comedy ladies don't go on the rocks. As witness Margaret Merie, who was "Mitze" in "Blossom Time" when she met Vernon McMillan, son of one of the most prominent families of Atlanta, Ga., and became Mrs. McMillan. She can play the domestic scene as well as anybody.

JOKES AND NEAR JOKES

"The Jones family are religious but very lazy." "Very lazy?" "Yes, they pile the months' provisions on the table on the first and one blessing does for the rest of the month." [Sun Dodge.]

"Pa," asked little Lester Livermore, "what does a statesman do any how?" "Answer to indictments, chiefly," replied Mr. Livermore. [Kansas City Star.]

"Now let me see, flowers $4.00, taxi $1.00, dinner $5.00, prom $10.00, and then back to the hotel, $1.00." She—"What is this, John—do you call it mental arithmetic?" He—"No, no. Dot—sentimental arithmetic." [The Brown Jug.]

Miss Pippin—Have you "kissed Me, in the Twilight?" Music clerk—It must have been the man at the next counter. I've only been here a week. [Kansas City Star.]

"Gosh, I didn't realize Jack was so tight before." "Not."

"The other day he told me that he had that same machine that didn't work." [Brown Jug.]

Hunt's Washington Letter

BY HARRY R. HUNT
NEA Service Writer.

NEW YORK—Not the least of the considerations guiding the Democrats as they grope for new combinations from which to evolve a presidential ticket is the matter of campaign slogans. For, after all, a catch phrase may be a more powerful factor in building up popular support than mere matters of a candidate's political or economic viewpoint.

With "Keep Cool and Keep Coolidge" as the high point in Republican sloganizing to date, the Democrats are seeking a candidate on whom can be hung a phrase still more stimulating.

McAdoo boosters believe the most effective campaigning could be done through buttons and banners picturing the Democratic rooster, with arched neck and flapping wings, emitting a new challenge.

Instead of crowing "Cock-a-doodle-do!" according to standardized barnyard formula, this rooster would rouse the roof with "McAdoo'll do! McAdoo'll do!"

As an immediate counter-irritant to the "Keep Cool and Keep Coolidge" cry, pending final selection of a candidate, a new version has been started at national committee headquarters asking that the country "Keep Cool Without Coolidge."

This, however, is in reality, is only a stop-gap measure, merely temporary with the slogan situation. It is a purely defensive, not offensive, move.

"A's our pal. He'll beat Cal." is the suggestion from Franklin Roosevelt and Norman Black of the South.

"Cute, but lacking punch," is the comment of on-the-spot delegates to this South slogan.

"Davis and Davis" is a suggestion from the Alabama delegation. It is given the Alabama member. Either it has farrowed out, or Otto Newman and C. C. Corbin, its members, have a surprise up their sleeve. They appear cheerful enough. Perhaps they will prove successful. Perhaps they will prove out the stable vote.

seen, possesses undoubted elements of real strength.

For the men proposed to be united under these battle-cries are John W. Davis, of West Virginia and New York, a "safe and sane progressive," a lawyer and a diplomat, and Jonathan M. Davis, honest-to-goodness democrat, at present governor of Kansas.

"Davis and Davis," say backers of this pair, could sweep the country. "John W. would account for everything east of the Alleghenies, Jonathan M. for everything in the middle west and west. The south, being Democratic, would take care of itself."

PSYCHOLOGICALLY, the heaviest handicap carried by Sam Ralston of Indiana is his unavailability as a subject for snappy slogans. No one can figure out how to rouse enthusiasm with Ralston. No one doubts his ability, his sincerity, honesty or his political strength, but popular strength as well as personal and political strength will be needed to warm the voters sufficiently to offset the Coolidge coolness.

And right there is where the Carter Glass boosters find an opening for their candidate.

"Let the light in with Glass," they suggest. "Glass will warm things up. Under Glass the Coolidge coolness can be made to run. If it is too hot, it will be too hot. If it is too cold, it will be too cold."

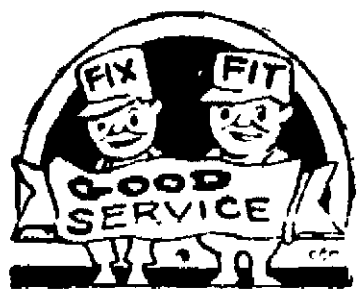

Who'll be the candidate? Why, it's a hard question. That's clear!

ONE of the impressive things in the early stages of the convention, to those who followed the preliminary jockeying of the pre-convention period, is the apparent indifference of the Underwood strength.

Consider the Underwood band members and the Alabama delegation. With exception seems to be given the Alabama member. Either it has farrowed out, or Otto Newman and C. C. Corbin, its members, have a surprise up their sleeve. They appear cheerful enough. Perhaps they will prove successful. Perhaps they will prove out the stable vote.

Keep Step with Father Time

When we get past 20 Father Time speeds up the camera of life and the years seem to click off at a greater rate—so the effort to get satisfaction, happiness and contentment out of life should be pepped up, too. Putting off getting your own home is not keeping step with "Pop" Time.

Bathrooms yield twofold benefits

Two important advantages result when a modern bathroom is installed in a home.

First: The bathroom provides opportunity for the beautiful practice of daily bathing. "A bath-day keeps you fit every way."

Second: A modern bathroom increases the property value far more than the cost of having it installed. Houses that have modern bathrooms sell and will for more.

A complete modern bathroom with its built-in or attached shower, medicine cabinet, bath stool and small fixtures (towel rack, comb holder, etc.), is a convenience worth many times its cost. In truth, it proves to be the room, of all, most comfortable.

Ask us to show you plans for complete modern bathing facilities in your home. Let the whole household enjoy the beautiful practice of daily bathing. Modern bathroom complete bathroom—can be purchased for less than the cheapest automobile.

Write, phone or call for particulars.

Be a King— Own a Palace

Every man has royal blood in his veins—and may be a king any time he chooses.

How? Easy!

If ever a man is king, it is when he owns the roof over his head and the ground beneath his house.

We have some moderate priced homes that are real palaces. Let us show you through.

Let Us Figure the Cost of Building a Home

Whether or not you are thinking of building a home we will be glad to estimate the cost for you.

Since lumber, more than any other material, is used in the construction of the average home, we believe we can show you that the possibilities of building a home are within your reach.

You will not be obligated in any way for your talk with us. Come in any time.

Wallpaper to Beautify Your Home

Selecting the proper Wallpaper for your home is as much a matter of art as selecting the correct paintings to hang on your walls. You must choose the proper colorings to blend correctly, and at the same time, you must keep the decorative features above criticism.

A well papered room is the best invitation you can offer your guests and speaks for itself. We'll be glad to turnish quotations.

More Than Dozen Establish New Peak Prices for Year—Considerably Irregularly Elsewhere

Brief Stock Review.

Total stock sales $72,194,000.

Ten first grade rails averaged $9.00; previous day $8.63.

Ten secondary rails averaged $7.50; previous day $7.42.

Ten public utilities averaged $9.25; previous day $9.45.

Ten industrials averaged $14.10; previous day $14.00.

Combined average $9.39; previous day $9.25.

Combined average month ago $9.10; year ago $8.57.

New York, July 9. — Strength and activity of public utility leaders, more than a dozen of which established new peak prices for the year, was the outstanding development in today's active stock market.

Elsewhere, considerable irregularity developed as a result of heavy professional selling, based on the belief that technical reaction was warranted after nearly five weeks of steadily rising prices. The reaction, however, did not get very far, net losses in the pivotal issues being limited to fractions.

Independent strength was shown by a number of the chemical and low priced railroad shares. New 1924 high records in these groups were established by the St. Louis Southwestern, Seaboard Air Line common and preferred issues, Erie common and preferred, Southern Railway, Nickel Plate, the Commercial Chemicals, Allied Chemical preferred, and Texas Gulf Sulphur.

Davidson Chemical closed nearly four points higher at $25.

United States Steel common, Baldwin and American Can all closed fractionally lower. Studebaker closed unchanged at 38 after having established a new 1924 top at 35.

The upward movement of bond prices was badly checked today, although new record high prices were established by a variety of railroad issues. Trading was rather colorless except for the sharp breaks in Wilson and Company convertible bonds in the late dealings.

The mother tongue of Jesus was probably the Scribe dialect of the Aramaic language which was generally spoken in Palestine, Syria and Mesopotamia. The people of Galilee, where Jesus was brought up, generally spoke the provincial language with a somewhat peculiar accent, which distinguished them from the people of Jerusalem and other parts of Palestine (Mark 14:70; and Matthew 26:71). There appears to be no evidence that Jesus ever spoke any foreign tongue such as Greek or Latin. Neither is it likely that He could read the Hebrew in the original, although the Scribe language was His. He is estimated many Hebrew words in His vocabulary.—Pathfinder Magazine.
